

THE PURPOSE OF CAMP

The purpose of the Higher Level Father-Son Basketball Camp is to provide fathers and guardians a time to spend with their sons in a setting that allows them quality time without the disruptions of home. The camp is designed to teach fundamentals of basketball to the sons and to give the fathers a chance to participate in these teaching techniques. The camp will provide for time on the courts, as well as "time-out" sessions for Bible study, guest speakers, chapel time for worship and free time to swim, play frisbee or just be together. The goal of the camp is to bring fathers and their sons into a life changing relationship that will last forever.

WHO CAN ATTEND CAMP?

Any son who is in the first through the eighth grade is eligible to attend camp. Any father who can tie on a pair of tennis shoes and pick up a basketball is eligible for camp. The skill levels are not important as our goal is to teach the fundamentals of the game. Students will be divided into groups of similar age and ability.

DATES AND LOCATIONS

The Higher Level Father-Son Basketball Camps will be held at Anderson University. Beginning on Friday evening and running through Sunday at noon, the camp is designed so that the fathers will only have to miss a minimum of work. Each father and son will be housed in a private room in a dorm near the Gymnasium. The swimming pool, the game room and the athletic fields will all be available for use during the camp. Meals are provided on campus by food services at the university.

CAMP THEME

The camp theme for this year is "LAYIN' BRICKS", based on Matthew 7:24-25. All of the fathers will be challenged to continue and build a solid foundation in their Christian faith. We will discuss ways to build this foundation and how those ways will look in our lives as we lead our families. We will discuss the challenges of being a husband and father in our society and the Christian response to those challenges. Our sons will be given the fundamentals of the Christian faith and how those fundamentals can help them build a solid foundation in their Christian walk as well. The hope of the staff is that all of the fathers and their sons will leave camp with a bonding experience and a deeper commitment to building a solid foundation in their Christian lives.

CAMP FOUNDER

Stan Daugherty, long time college and high school basketball coach founded the Higher Level Basketball Camps in 1994. The camps originated out of an idea for all campers to "raise their level" during the week of basketball camp. This idea has grown into a series of Higher Level Basketball Camps in which Christian principles serve as the guiding influence in the teaching of life and basketball to all of the participants. Coach Daugherty has coached at every level from middle school to college. Known for his teaching of fundamentals, he has compiled a record of over 200 wins as a head coach at five high schools in Indiana. He has won three sectional championships, two conference championships, three county championships and coached Matt Painter, currently the head coach of Purdue University. As the head coach at Goshen College, he coached the school's first team to win twenty games in a season in more than fifty years of basketball. He had back-to-back twenty-one win seasons from 2003-2005 and was the MCC Coach of the Year in 2005. Coach Daugherty left Goshen College as the all time leader in victories for a head coach in men's basketball. He has been active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the National Association of Basketball Coaches and the Indiana Basketball Coaches Association. Coach Daugherty is currently the Head Basketball Coach at Delta High School in Muncie, Indiana.

COST OF THE CAMP

Tuition for the camp is $350 for a father and a son. An additional son may attend for a cost of $120. Commuters may attend the camp for only $250 if they choose to spend overnight at home. Price includes housing, meals, t-shirts and a basketball. A $100 deposit is requested when you apply.

"My boys and I were blessed by the basketball we learned, the new friends we made and the time we had together. Higher Level Basketball Camp will elevate your game and your relationships."

*Clark Kellogg,

"As a Basketball Camp for fathers and their sons, the Higher Level Camp surpassed all of my expectations. They provided a unique balance of solid basketball instruction and free time that allows dads to truly connect with their sons. I recommend this camp for all dads and I look forward to going back each year."

David Schnake, Muncie, Indiana

"What an awesome weekend. The opportunity to spend quality time with my sons doing something we all enjoy and sharing our faith in God at the same time has been a tremendous experience. It has brought us closer together as a family and has taught the kids to include God in their every day lives. We can't wait until next year's session to attend again."

Dave Jankowski, Ft. Wayne, Indiana

"Where else can you eat, sleep, pray, share quiet time, and be an active participant in basketball with your sons than at Stan's Higher Level Camp? The experience rates as a favorite for my sons each summer!"
